

Please do not make any changes. When people discontinue a service from a bank or any other institution they do it for a reason and they do not need to be hassled by telemarketers. I would not purchase anything from someone calling me at home. It's an invasion of a person's privacy.